BIG FACTS ABOUT LITTLE MOUTHS

#1 Dentists recommend that you bring your child in for their first check-up within six months of the appearance of the first tooth - no later than their first birthday!

#2 Baby teeth begin to fall out around age 6 but some are present until age 12! Baby - or primary - teeth are important in the development of a child’s mouth and spacing of adult teeth.

#3 Tooth decay is by far the most common childhood disease. It is five times more common than asthma. It is also one of the most preventable diseases.
